

STUDENT CONSUMER INFORMATION

2012 Student Consumer Information
Printed on 05/22/2012

Federal regulations require institutions to disclose certain consumer information for students in Title IV eligible educational programs that lead to gainful employment in a recognized occupation. American Sentinel has consolidated this information in one location to help students make an informed decision relevant to their education.

Student Consumer Information

Graduation Rates

American Sentinel did not admit full-time first-time undergraduate-level students in the cohort year; therefore we are disclosing graduation rates as reported to our accreditor (DETC) in January 2011.

Degree Program	2010
B.S. Computer Science	57.0%
M.S. Computer Science	52.0%
M.S. Information Systems	77.0%
B.S. Information Systems	60.0%
Master Business Administration	48.0%
M.S. Nursing	83.0%
B.S. Management Information Systems	50.0%
A.S. Business Administration	100%
A.S. Information Systems	67.0%

Retention Rates

American Sentinel did not admit full-time first-time undergraduate-level students in the cohort year. The retention rate for part-time students attending American Sentinel for the first time is 77%.

Federal regulations require institutions to provide certain consumer information to its students annually, along with an annual statement of procedures on where such information can be obtained.

Family Education Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA)

The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974 (FERPA) (20 U.S.C. 1232g; 34 CFR Part 99) as amended, is a federal law that sets forth requirements regarding the privacy of student records. FERPA governs the disclosure of student records maintained by an educational institution as well as access to those records. FERPA rights begin when a student is accepted by an institution. Institutions that receive funds administered by the Federal Office of Education are bound by FERPA requirements and failure to comply may result in the loss of an institution's federal funding.

1. Policy

- American Sentinel University abides by and follows all federal guidelines, provisions and regulations under FERPA. (See References and Definitions for full title.)
- The following are subdivisions of FERPA rights and regulations:
 1. Annual notification of FERPA rights - Each educational agency or institution shall annually notify parents of students currently in attendance, or eligible students currently in attendance, of their rights under the Act and this part. 99.7 (a) (1)
 1. American Sentinel notifies students annually in a manner that reasonably reaches or is available to all students, including students who are disabled (including sight and hearing impaired).
 2. American Sentinel ensures that all materials are available in an accessible format that can be used to best serve any student needing additional assistance.
 3. American Sentinel publishes the annual notification as a policy statement that is available in the academic catalog, student handbook and faculty handbook. Each publication is available in a pdf format.
 2. Student FERPA rights - FERPA affords students certain rights with respect to their education records. These rights include the following:
 1. The right to inspect and review the student's education record(s) within 45 days of the day the registrar receives a written request for access to certain identified record(s). The school will make arrangements for access and notify the student of the time and place where the records may be inspected. Students may obtain copies of their education records for a nominal charge.

2. The right to request the amendment of any part of the student's education records that the student believes is inaccurate, misleading or in violation of his/her privacy rights. A written request for amendment that fully describes the specific reason(s) for the requested change must be given to the registrar. Following review, the student will be informed of any amendments or denials of amendment to his or her education records, including a detailed explanation for the decision rendered. Students have a right to a hearing regarding the request for amendment and can request such a hearing in writing to the Grievance and Appeals Committee. At the hearing, the student can present evidence relevant to the disputed issues. All decisions made by the Grievance and Appeals Committee are final. Copies of all requests and written documentation regarding the contents of a student's education record will be retained as part of that student's permanent record.
 3. The right to consent to disclosure of personally identifiable information contained in the student's education records, except in a situation where FERPA authorizes disclosure without consent.
 4. The right to file a complaint with the U.S. Department of Education concerning alleged failures by the university to comply with the requirements of FERPA. The name and address of the Office that administers FERPA is:
Family Policy Compliance Office
US Department of Education
400 Maryland Avenue, SW
Washington, DC 20202-5901
3. Disclosure without consent - FERPA only authorizes disclosure of personally identifiable information from educational records without the prior written consent of the student in specific circumstances, as described below.
1. One circumstance that permits disclosure without consent is disclosure to school officials with legitimate educational interests. A school official is a person employed by a school in an administrative, supervisory, academic, research or support staff position or a person serving on the Board of Trustees. or a student serving on an official committee, such as a disciplinary or grievance committee; or assisting another school official in performing his or her tasks.
 2. A school official has legitimate educational interest if the official needs to review education records in order to fulfill his or her professional responsibility.

The following school officials and their staffs are responsible for maintaining student records within their respective administrative areas in accordance with the policies of this statement and the relevant state and federal laws:

- i. Vice President, Academic Affairs
- ii. Controller
- iii. Vice President, Education & Information Technology
- iv. Director, Financial Aid
- v. Associate Dean, Student Success & Retention
- vi. Registrar
- vii. Compliance
- viii. President

If further information is required, contact the appropriate school official.

1. Other instances where student information may be disclosed without the permission of the student include, but are not limited to:
 - a. Disclosure made to authorized representatives of the U.S. Department of Education, the Office of the Inspector General, accreditation and licensure agencies, and state and local education authorities.
 - b. Disclosure in complying with a judicial order or lawfully issued subpoena.
 - c. Disclosure in connection with financial aid for which the student has applied.
 - d. Disclosure made to the student's parent if the student is a dependent of the parent as defined by the U.S. Internal Revenue Service.
 - e. Disclosure made to organizations that are conducting studies concerning the administration of student aid programs on behalf of educational agencies or institutions.
4. Record of disclosures - The registrar maintains a record of each request for access and each disclosure of personally identifiable information from the education records of each student. This record shall be maintained with the education records of each student and will include the parties who have requested or received information and the legitimate interests the parties had in requesting or obtaining the information.

1. American Sentinel is not required to keep record of disclosures made to:

- i. The student.
- ii. School officials with legitimate educational interests.
- iii. Parties with written consent from the student.

- iv. Parties receiving records as directed by law enforcement subpoena whereby the court has ordered that the existence of the subpoena not be disclosed.
- v. Directory information

Directory information means information contained in an education record that would not generally be considered harmful or an invasion of privacy if disclosed. 99.3

Directory information may be released without prior student consent upon request by an individual or agency.

2. American Sentinel University defines directory information as the following:

- i. Name
- ii. State or country of residence
- iii. Email address
- iv. Program
- v. Major field of study
- vi. Grade level (undergraduate, graduate)
- vii. Degree & awards received

FERPA provides students the right to withhold disclosure of their directory information. American Sentinel University releases this information as a service to its students. Students are encouraged to carefully consider the ramifications of withholding directory information. The student may opt out their inclusion in the institutions directory list up to 60 days after the annual notification is published or 60 days after their initial enrollment. A request to opt out that is received after the 60 day deadline will take effect with the publication of the next annual notification. If the student does not wish the school to authorize the release of any of the above information, please go to the following link, sign and return the Directory Information Release Form.

2. Procedure

- Record of disclosures:

American Sentinel University keeps record of requests for student-record disclosure in the student information system as an information release. This was enacted January 2011; prior to this date, such information was kept in the student's physical file. This disclosure is housed in the student's file and contains the date requested, the name of the agency requesting information and type of information requested.

This information remains a part of the student's permanent file.

Campus Security and Crime Prevention Information

American Sentinel University complies with the Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security Policy and Crime Statistics Act (Clery Act). American Sentinel's policy is prepared in cooperation with local law enforcement agencies. Per the Clery Act, nothing in the law shall be construed to permit a school to retaliate, intimidate, threaten, coerce or otherwise discriminate against any individual.

The university attempts to provide students and employees with a safe and secure environment in which to study and work. American Sentinel's offices are open during posted hours. The university's offices are secured during times the school is not open. American Sentinel does not have a physical campus location or residential facilities for students.

Hate Crime Response and Prevention

H.R.2217: The term "hate crime" is defined as a crime in which the defendant intentionally selects a victim--or in the case of a property crime, a piece of property - because of the actual or perceived race, color, religion, national origin, ethnicity, gender, disability, sexual orientation or homeless status of that person.

- American Sentinel University does not condone hate crimes or bias acts, as defined by H.R.2217 and is committed to providing an environment that is safe for all staff, faculty, students and visitors.
- For the health and well-being of the American Sentinel University community, it is essential that individuals or groups who feel targeted and/or affected by bias or hate acts are able to easily report incidents and receive services.
- If a student or office visitor witnesses any act that may be considered a hate crime or bias act (against him or herself, a fellow student or visitor, or another person), he or she should contact American Sentinel's Compliance Office immediately.
- The director of compliance prepares an annual report of hate crimes. This information is posted on the American Sentinel website.

Internet Usage (Peer-to-Peer File Sharing)

All Internet data that is composed, transmitted or received via the American Sentinel computer communications systems is considered to be part of the official records of the university and is reviewed annually. Such information is also subject to disclosure to law enforcement or other third parties. Consequently, students should always ensure that the information contained in Internet email messages and other transmissions is accurate, appropriate, ethical and lawful

All Internet data that is composed, transmitted, or received via the American Sentinel computer communications systems is considered to be part of the official records of the school and, as such is reviewed annually, along with being subject to disclosure to law enforcement or other third parties. Consequently, students should always ensure that the business information contained in the Internet email messages and other transmissions is accurate, appropriate, ethical, and lawful.

The equipment, services and technology provided via the Internet are the property of the school. As such, the university reserves the right to monitor Internet traffic, and retrieve and read any data composed, sent or received through our online connections and stored in our computer systems. Data that is composed, transmitted, accessed or received via the Internet must not contain content that could be considered discriminatory, offensive, obscene, threatening, harassing, intimidating or disruptive to any employee or other person. Examples of unacceptable content may include, but are not limited to, sexual comments or images, racial slurs, derogatory gender-specific comments, or any other comments or images that could reasonably offend someone on the basis of race, age, sex, religious or political beliefs, national origin, disability, sexual orientation, or any other characteristic protected by law.

Examples of unacceptable content may include, but are not limited to, sexual comments or images, racial slurs, gender-specific comments, or any other comments or images that could reasonably offend someone on the basis of race, age, sex, religious or political beliefs, national origin, disability, sexual orientation, or any other characteristic protected by law.

The unauthorized use, installation, copying or distribution of copyrighted, trademarked, or patented material on the Internet is prohibited. As a general rule, if a student did not create the material, does not own the rights to it or has not secured authorization for its use, the material should not be put on the Internet. Likewise, copyrighted and/or trademarked information should not be downloaded from the Internet to the school's networks or devices without obtaining prior permission in writing or having possession of a legal bill of sale or license from the owner.

Abuse of school-provided Internet access will result in disciplinary action up to and including dismissal or expulsion. Students may also be held personally liable for any violations of this policy. The following behaviors are prohibited and can result in disciplinary action:

- Sending, printing or posting discriminatory, harassing or threatening messages or images.
- Stealing, using or disclosing someone else's code or password without authorization.
- Copying, pirating or downloading software and electronic files without permission.
- Sending or posting confidential material, trade secrets, or proprietary information outside of the university.
- Violating copyright law.
- Failing to observe licensing agreements.
- Engaging in unauthorized transactions that may incur a cost to the university or initiate unwanted Internet services.
- Sending or posting messages or material that could damage the university's image or reputation, including the use of the university name, titles and positions in any publication that may be perceived as offensive.
- Participating in the viewing or exchange of pornography or obscene material.
- Sending or posting messages that defame or slander other individuals.
- Attempting to break into the computer system of another organization or person.
- Performing operations intended to identify security vulnerabilities or disrupt service of another organization.
- Refusing to cooperate with a security investigation.
- Sending or posting chain letters, solicitations or advertisements not related to education purposes or activities.
- Using the Internet for political causes or activities, religious activities or any sort of gambling.
- Jeopardizing the security of the university's electronic communications systems.
- Sending or posting messages that disparage another organization's products or services or passing personal views as those of the university.
- Sending anonymous email messages.
- Engaging in any other inappropriate or illegal activities.

Drug and Alcohol Abuse Prevention

American Sentinel University is committed to providing students, faculty and staff an environment free of alcohol and drugs. The unlawful possession, use or distribution of drugs or alcohol on property owned, leased, used or rented by American Sentinel University is strictly prohibited. Use of alcohol at American Sentinel-sponsored events--other than those where alcohol is provided - is prohibited.

American Sentinel University has a referral service available for drug and alcohol counseling, rehabilitation and employee/student assistance programs. Please contact your student success advisor for details.
