UNIVERSITY NEWS

Need help with your research paper? Struggling with math? Coming soon - NetTutor!

As American Sentinel continues to grow, we've identified the need for more academic support for our students. Later in February, we will provide access for all students to receive complimentary tutoring. We will offer 24/7 help for many subjects, and availability can be customized according to your needs. Highlights include:

- On demand assistance from any location
- Expert tutors educated and located in the United States
- 24/7 Online tutoring in all subjects
- Students may submit offline questions or papers 24 hours a day and receive quick feedback

NetTutor® is the leader in online tutoring services. And as educators, we look forward to seeing how it will positively impact the academic success of our students. NetTutor® deploys a powerful interface complete with necessary tools and symbols to provide the appropriate learning environment for students from third grade through college.

We will send out information later this month about how to participate!

CAREER CORNER

This Year: Put Yourself in the Path of Opportunity

Okay, so you've probably decided that 2012 is the year you're absolutely going to work on your abs, dash that credit card debt, and get diligent about flossing your teeth on a regular basis. But what about your career goals? Why not make 2012 the year you put yourself – and your career – in the path of opportunity? Read more
